How our program works: It’s all designed around 2 skills

LEADERSHIP  MANAGEMENT

The Five Practices of Exemplary Leadership

1. Inspire a shared vision
2. Challenge the process
3. Enable others to act
4. Encourage the heart
5. Model the way

5 Principles for Continuous Improvement

1. People
2. Process
3. Measurement
4. Oversight
5. Communication

By Kouzes and Posner
What’s great is when a manager engages in these behaviors the following occurs

They are:

- More effective in meeting job-related demands
- More successful in representing their units to upper management
- More likely to create higher-performing teams
They also....

- Foster loyalty and commitment
- Increase motivational levels and willingness to work hard
- Reduce absenteeism and turnover
- Possess high degrees of personal credibility
5 Leadership Practices

1. Inspiring a Shared Vision
2. Modeling the Way
3. Challenging the Process
4. Enabling Others
5. Encouraging the Heart
1. Inspire a shared vision

- Leaders passionately believe they can make a difference.
- They envision the future, creating an ideal and unique image of what the organization can become.
- Through their magnetism and quiet persuasion, leaders enlist others in their dreams.
- They breathe life into their visions and get people to see exciting possibilities for the future.
“Creative tension comes from seeing clearly where we want to be, our ‘vision,’ and telling the truth about where we are, our ‘current reality.’ The gap between the two generates a natural tension. Creative tension cannot be generated from current reality alone. All the analysis in the world will never generate a vision. Many who are qualified to lead fail to do so because they try to substitute analysis for vision. What they never grasp is that the natural energy for changing reality comes from holding a picture of what might be that is more important to people than what is.”

-Pete M. Senge,
MIT Sloan School of Management
1. Inspire a shared vision

Our program is designed to create a culture of achievement starting with creating a culture of showing up.

Leadership is the capacity to translate vision into reality.
—Warren Bennis
2. Challenge the process

- Leaders look for opportunities to change the status quo.
- They look for innovative ways to improve the organization.
- In doing so, they experiment and take risks.
- And because leaders know that risk taking involves mistakes and failures they accept the inevitable disappointments as learning opportunities.
Yes. I am suggesting change

• The #1 reaction to change is resistance
• Most people prefer the status quo
  – It’s familiar
  – It’s not scary
  – They know “They can do it”
• Here’s the problem
  – Creativity is stifled along with innovation
  – No significant improvements can be had
“The best time to plant a tree was 20 years ago. The second best time is now.”

Chinese Proverb

• To keep up you have to change.

• Some questions:
  – Where would you be if you had started last week?
  – Where would you be if you had started last month?
  – Where would you be if you had started last year?
  – Where would you be if you had started 5 years ago?

• It’s never convenient, there will never be 100% consensus, there will always be naysayers and you can’t wait for perfect.

• Change, like it or not, is an imperative for growth.
We’re disrupting how districts typically approach achievement.

We have a proven, innovative solution to improve student attendance. We built a process into our program with the rigor, service and vigilance to execute with the same focus in year three as we have on day one.
3. Enable others to act

- Leaders foster collaboration and build spirited teams.
- The actively involve others.
- Leaders understand that mutual respect is what sustains extraordinary efforts; they strive to create an atmosphere of trust and dignity.
- They strengthen others, making each person feel capable and powerful.
Research indicates that employees have three prime needs: Interesting work, recognition for doing a good job, and being let in on things that are going on. —Zig Ziglar

The Achievement Initiative incorporates all three!

3. Enable others to act

PEOPLE · PROCESS · MEASUREMENT · OVERSIGHT · COMMUNICATION

We pay attention to people and believe that your data tells a story that should inspire action. Data reporting and comparative analysis are built into our service model, providing your team with the tools and confidence to make a difference.
Accomplishing extraordinary things in organizations is hard work.

To keep hope and determination alive, leaders recognize contributions that individuals make.

In every winning team, the members need to share in the rewards of their efforts, so leaders celebrate accomplishments. They make people feel like heroes.
4. Encourage the heart

PEOPLE · COMMUNICATION

Recognition Program

We feel inspired by the results achieved through our program and are proud to acknowledge the accomplishments of our district partners and their success.

- Board ceremony presentation
- Award plaques and certificates provided

People work for money but go the extra mile for recognition, praise and rewards.

—Dale Carnegie
5. Model the way

- Leaders establish principles concerning the way people (constituents, colleagues, and customers alike) should be treated and the way goals should be pursued.
- They create standards of excellence and then set an example for others to follow.
- Because the prospect of complex change can overwhelm people and stifle action, they set interim goals so that people can achieve small wins as they work toward larger objectives.
- They unravel bureaucracy when it impedes action; they put up signposts when people are unsure of where to go or how to get there; and they create opportunities for victory.
5. Model the way

PROCESS · MEASUREMENT · OVERSIGHT

We push your one clear message out to students, parents, community and district staff, starting the chain reaction that shifts your entire organization’s priority toward your objectives.

A genuine leader is not a searcher for consensus but a molder of consensus.

When you combine 5 Principles of Continuous Improvement (which is quality management) + 5 Exemplary Leadership Practices, what happens?
Achieve the extraordinary

We are closing the gap in graduation rates

Where we started in 2016

• District-wide attendance rate was 95%
• District truancy rate was 66.7%
• Attendance was not a priority
• Lack of student attendance data
• Too many hands in reporting student attendance data
• Inconsistent parent outreach process, no structure
• Lack of personnel and resources
What Changed?

District leadership began to focus on data that had a direct correlation to mandated reported data

Attendance became a district-wide focus as the key to improving outcomes

On-going district-wide training to Classified and Certificated staff

Attendance became part of principals evaluation along with attendance incentives

Utilization of the parent outreach process

Focus on Chronic Absenteeism
What We Did

Partnered with SI&A to implement Attention2Attendance, collect data and to configure it to meet our specific needs

Brought all schools together in a consistent uniform process
- Helped parents and students see that achievement and success are linked to attendance—it can’t happen without being present, at school, ready to learn ... showing up

Ultimate goal:
- Strengthen the connection between schools and families
- Increase parent communication
- Regain learning time
- Improve student outcomes

Use Data to Inform Action

Improve Outcomes

- Poor attendance doesn’t have to be a guessing game
- Districts that make a significant change in attendance do so because they use and understand the attendance data and apply it through their process

Use as a measuring stick against prior months and years

Enables districts to identify chronic attendance problems, truancy and attendance patterns

How does a district know if they are improving district wide attendance through their efforts and programs if they are not using data?
